

Time For Us

A summer camp for young teens who are connected to someone with a dementia disease

What is it about?

TIME FOR US is a great camping opportunity for teens from 13 to 16 years of age who have a loved one with Alzheimer's disease or a similar diagnosis. While most of each day is spent on fun camp activities, a portion of the time will be spent helping teens understand the many types of dementia, communication and daily life issues, and more. Campers will gain knowledge, coping skills, peer support and relationships that may assist them for years to come.
